

Cartooning Planet Formation

Names:

Purpose

To recap planet formation by making a cartoon picture of planet formation as your understand it.

Activity

Pearson has asked you to make a “cartoon” diagram of planet formation. (OK, not really. But play along, here.) Your job is to produce such a picture. You can break down the process into a series of pictures (steps in the process). You can also branch off you cartoon. (Such as, “If X is true, do this... and if Y is true, then do this instead.”) This is meant to be a creative activity, so have some fun. Humor, anthropomorphizing, and other such silliness is encouraged as long as you keep the story’s processes accurate!
